22) NIFTY Dividend Opportunities 50

A revision in the guideline governing index reconstitution of NIFTY Dividend Opportunities 50 index is being made as given hereunder:

Existing guidelines	Revised guidelines
Dividend Yield: A dividend yield is calculated using total dividend amount as reported in company's annual report.	Dividend Yield: A dividend yield of each company is calculated using total dividend amount in the last 12 months (calculated based on ex-dividend date) prior to the rebalancing reference date using average market capitalization for one year period ending January.
Buffer & final selection: A buffer of 100% of total number of index constituents is applied at the time of each review. This means that if the existing constituent at the time of the review ranks within the top 100, the same can be retained in the index.	Buffer & final selection: A guideline of 100% buffer has been discontinued. Top 25 companies ranked by annual dividend yield will be compulsorily included in the index and companies ranked below 75 by annual dividend yield will be compulsorily excluded from the index.

Data cut-off: Initial selection of top 300 stocks is carried out using average free float market capitalization and average daily turnover for six month period ending last trading day of November of each year.	Data cut-off: Initial selection of top 300 stocks is carried out using average free float market capitalization and average daily turnover for six month period ending last trading day of January of each year.
Reconstitution date: The index is reconstituted annually and implemented from first working day after F&O expiry of December.	Reconstitution date: The index is reconstituted annually and implemented from first working day after F&O expiry of March.
